Nong Bua Lam Phu

Nong Bua Lam Phu

"King Naresuan the Great Shrine, Phu Kao Phu Phan Kham National Park, Revered Luangpu Khao's Dhamma, Glittering Erawan Cave, and Ancient Town of Nakhon Khuean Khan Kap Kaeo Bua Ban"

Nong Bua Lam Phu is the country's latest province. Established on December 1, 1993, it is the 76th province of Thailand. Before separation, Nong Bua Lam Phu once was part of Udon Thani. Although the province was just established recently, it has long history. Archeological artifacts found in this area indicate that there were human's settlements in Nong Bua Lam Phu since in the pre-historical era. About 200 years ago, a town was established by Laotian people from the left side of Mekong River. The name Nong Bua Lam Phu appears in historical record as a rest venue for Siamese Army during their march to fight against Vientiane in both Ayutthaya and Rattanakosin era. Besides picturesque nature namely Phu Phan Range and beautiful lake, Nong Bua Lam Phu is rich of cultural attractions, such as archeological sites and interesting local handicrafts. The province acquires total area of 3,859 square kilometres and it is divided into 6 Amphoe namely Mueang Nong Bua Lam Phu, Non Sang, Si Bun Rueang, Na Klang, Suwanakhuha, and Na Wang.

ATTRACTI0NS

Amphoe Mueang Nong Bua Lam Phu

Monument and shrine of King Naresuan the Great (พระอนุสาวรีย์และศาลสมเด็จพระนเรศวารมหราษฎร์)

Built to commemorate King Naresuan the Great who in 1574 led his army en route Nong Bua Lam Phu to Vientiane by the assignment of the King of Hongsa, or the kingdom of Burma which ruled Thailand at that time. As King Naresuan got sick, King of Hongsa allowed him to get back to Ayuthaya. The venue where King Naresuan set camp is in the compound of around Nong Bua Park, in front of Nong Bua Lam Phu's city hall. Every year during Januray 25 February 3, celebration and ceremony are held to honor King Naresuan.

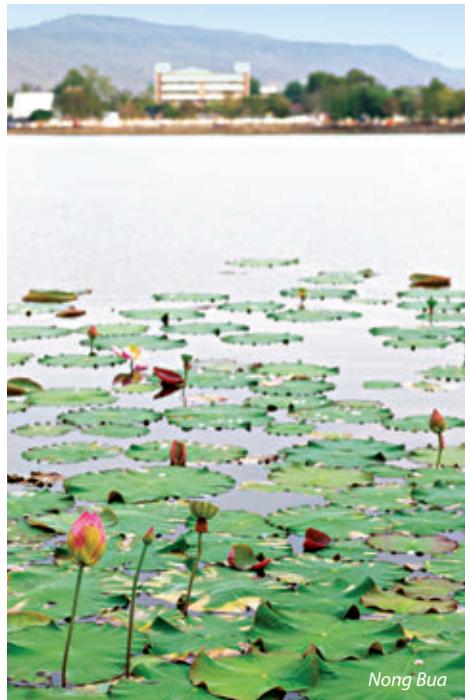

Nong Bua (หนองบัว)

The big pond is situated right in front of the city hall. As it never dries up, the pond with a beautiful backdrop of Phu Phan Kham Range is a nice place to relax for the Nong Bua Lam Phu people. On the western end is a shrine called Ho Song Nang. Legend has it that the spirits of the twin sisters Khamsi and Khamsai, nieces of Phra Wo Phra Ta, the founder of Nong Bua Lam Phu, are there to guard the Vientiane giant gong.

Phra Wo Phra Ta City Pillar Shrine (ศาลหลักเมืองพระวอ พระตา)

Located just 100 metres from highway 210 (Nong Bua Lam Phu-Udon Thani), the city pillar shrine is built to honor Phra Wo and Phra Ta who had established the city. The first stone of this city pillar shrine was laid on November 21, 1975. It was completed and opened on February 28, 1976.

Namtok Thao To Botanical Park (วนอุทยานน้ำตก渺่าต้อ)

Situated on highway 210 (Nong Bua Lam Phu Shell Fossil Museum-Udon Thani) some 3 kilometres from Nong Bua Lam Phu City, the shady park is a nice place for picnic. The secreted shrine of Pu Lup is located nearby.

Shell Fossil Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์หอยทิbin ล้านปี)

Located at Ban Huai Duea, Tambon Non Than, the Museum features mollusk fossils dating back to 140-150 millions years ago. A number of bivalve fossils were found in good condition on a 50-metres high cliff. In addition, ancient crocodile skeletons, mica and some minerals were found. Visitors will also enjoy the exhibition building featuring pieces of dinosaur fossils found in a siltstone layer, 2 metres above the layer where the shell fossils were excavated. These pieces include both the upper left and right front legs, lower hind legs, scapula, metatarsals, and ribs.

The dinosaur and shell fossils discovery site in Ban Huai Duea has been developed into an "Unseen Nong Bua Lam Phu" area. The 6 zones include:

or ordination hall, as well as, the much revered Buddha statue Luang pho Phra Chaiya chettha.

Phu Hin Lat Cho Fa (ภูหินลาดซื่อฟ้า)

Located in Tambon Non Than, this rugged mountain range with pathways and caves used to be the stronghold of the Communist Party of Thailand. It was a school of politics, training camp, and headquarters, which sent out troops to various zones. Visitors will also find more than 200 urns of those who died in the operations. A memorial merit-making ceremony is held annually in summer. The former exercise zone is now a star observation point. Amphoe Nong Wua So and Amphoe Kut Chap of Udon Thani province are visible from up here. Inside the caves, there are chambers for various purposes like Tham Witthayu, Tham Wethi, Thap Rong Phayaban, Tham Sabiang, and hotel for honeymooners.

Wat Tham Klong Phen* (วัดถ้ำคลองphen)

Located at the foot of Phu Phan Mount, Wat Tham Klong Phen is the province's famous forest temple. Without accurate history, the temple was probably built during Khmer era and it has been neglected until 1958. Luangpu Khao Ananyo, monk who practiced Wipassana meditation from famous monk Archan Man Phurithatta Thera, has used this venue to practice his meditation. He has covered 3-4 huge rocks with cement roof, making it a very big hall that can accommodate hundreds of people. Luangpu Khao has practiced meditation here until he has passed away in 1983. Blanketed with lush vegetable and decorated with rock garden, around the temple is very shady and peaceful. The main hall or Ubosot houses statue of Luangpu Khao and two-sided ancient drum or Klong Phen. In its rock corners, there are many Buddha Statues in different attitudes such as meditation, reclining, and 'Patrannimit' or bas relief of Buddha image in walking attitude. At the front of the hall is a huge statue of a Chinese Monk of good luck. A bit from the temple, a two-kilometre-long road, running through a forest and weird-shaped rocks, leads to the monument of Luangpu Khao. Around the monument are:

Museum of Luangpu Khao Ananyo's utensils

Museum of Luangpu Khao Ananyo's utensils (พิพิธภัณฑ์อุปัชฌาย์หลวงปู่ขาว อนาคตอย) The museum features ashes and utensils of Luangpu Khao for Buddhist can pay homage.

Old Monastery of Luangpu Khao (คุกเก่าของหลวงปู่ขาว) The small wooden hut is situated in the shady forest. The new monastery is a huge house in Thai traditional style.

Luangpu Khao Wax Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์หุ่นพี๊ดหลวงปู่ขาว) The architecture, in the shape three rocks sitting next to each other, blends itself to the surrounding rock garden of the temple. Situated amidst colourful garden and lush green lawn, the museum features wax statue of Luangpu Khao in sitting posture. His utensils are displayed in the room nearby.

Luangpu Khao Pagoda (เจดีย์หลวงปู่ขาว) Built to house ashes of Luangpu Khao, the pagoda is situated on rock terrace and can be reached by stair.

Luangpu Khao Pavillion Rectangular (ศาลาหลวงปู่ขาว) pavilion is built during Luangpu Khao's era as a venue for Buddhism rituals. Around the pavilion is calm and shady.
